LATEST ISSUE OF SALISBURY NEWSLETTER, CROSSROADS CHRONICLE, NOW POSTED ON CITY WEBSITE

Salisbury Mayor Barrie P. Tilghman is pleased to announce that the Summer 2008 issue of the City newsletter, Crossroads Chronicle, is complete and posted on the City website at www.ci.salisbury.md.us. Some of the articles in this issue include: Salisbury tap water wins award, update on All-America City application, the Salisbury Historic District Commission, Red Wolf pups at the Salisbury Zoo, Isabella Streetscape Project, New Fire Station #16 facility, "Positive Alternatives" event, and the Salisbury Dog Park.

Crossroads Chronicle is published four times a year. You can find all past issues of the newsletter on the City website. Look for the next issue in October 2008.

Thanks to the entire Editorial Board of the Crossroads Chronicle for their hard work and commitment to putting together a quality publication:

Gina Boobar, Editor-in-Chief, Mayor's Office
Robin Ayele, Planning & Zoning
FF/PM Melissa Brown, Fire Department
Wendy Erdie, Public Works
Henry Eure, Building Permits & Inspections
Susan Phillips, Neighborhood Services & Code Compliance
Karen Reddersen, Internal Services
Sgt. Steve Schweikert, Police Department
Susan Wood, Community Development

This newsletter was created for the citizens of Salisbury. If you have any comments or suggestions related to the newsletter, contact Gina Boobar at 410-548-3100.
